The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL register.pearsoncmg.com/reg/register/reg1.jsp. The page is titled "Steps to Register" and has three steps: "Access Information" (selected), "Account Information", and "Confirmation & Summary". The "Access Information" section contains a question "Do you have a Pearson Education account?" with radio buttons for "Yes" and "No", and a link "Not sure if you have an account?". Below this is the "Access Code" section, which is circled in blue. It asks to "Enter your access code." and shows a field with six boxes separated by dashes. A yellow box provides an example: "SIMPLE-FRILL-TONLE-WEIRS-CHOIR-FLEES". There are "Cancel" and "Next" buttons at the bottom right.

who is amazing at what he does and is always willing to work for me to get me a code, his is a real person and you can trust him. I love my job, I work long hours, but I love what I do. My boss is terrific. He pays for my cell phone, which can be a real challenge. For example, if I don't have phone service, I have to take notes on my computer. It's the best way to go, but I have to wait 2 weeks to get service. I know that there are more efficient ways to communicate, but as I explained, I'm an introvert, I have no time to take public transportation, I have a child and can't stay too late. The boss understands all that. He knows that I work hard and he doesn't make me feel guilty for it. He also understands the value of my time and that I work when it's convenient for me. He helps me manage my time. I'm very lucky to have found my job and I've enjoyed it. I'm not paid well, but I consider it a blessing. And I know that's not the norm for everyone. Work-Life Balance I work from home and I work from my office. It's hard to be home all the time as a mother. But I do try to get away from home as much as possible. I love taking my child to school. I love watching her play and interact with the other kids. I also like to go to the store and other places with her. I try to balance things out. Advice to Management When my child was in school, I would leave at 6:30 every day, take a couple of hours to pick up my child and then return to the office. My boss knew that, and this allowed me to work from home without feeling guilty about it. He also knew that it was important for me to have a good work-life balance. I would go to my office to catch up on work and call my mom on my breaks. Resources Safety My child is safe at school. The school nurses are an excellent resource. They are there for her if she gets sick. They know her teacher and other children. They also know where there is an emergency care center in case my child needs to be taken to the hospital. They also have a good relationship with the child welfare agency. If a child is in danger or needs help, the school nurse has 82157476af
